PICKETING AGAIN MARKS STRIKE AT TEXAS GULF PORTS

VANCOUVER WORKERS MAY JOIN; NATIONAL BOARD URGES MEDIATION

(By The Associated Press)
Orderly picketing marked the third day of the strike of longshoremen along Texas Gulf coast points today as they held out for higher wages and kept wharf activities at a standstill.

Meanwhile, the national labor board instructed the Texas board of the U. S. regional organization to continue efforts to "arbitrate and mediate" between shippers and the workers.

Roger Buell, secretary of the board at San Antonio, said the organization would determine what steps were open to it to continue efforts to arbitrate the wage dispute. Representatives of both sides in the issue met at San Antonio five weeks ago but could not settle their differences entirely.

At the same time, Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Union, pleaded to leave New York for a tour of the strike-affected sectors. He said he wanted to "spike" reports that the union was withholding recognition of strike movements and said the strike had the absolute sanction of the parent union.

Exploitation Charged
Ryan said the principal matter of contention was in the "exploitation" of strikers by contractors and attempts of employers to place handling of cotton on an hourly basis rather than on a basis of piece work.

While the work of loading or unloading cotton might be done, the city of Beaumont, after a conference of the city commission and the dock and wharf board, decided upon a hands-off policy in the strike there. No police will be stationed at the docks and the city will interfere only should become necessary to protect property.

B.ATTERS, superintendent of the docks at Beaumont, said independent workers had ceased to congregate in their usual places and that threats on their lives had been made if they did any work during the strike.

A suggestion that a barge of the Red River line, unloading of which was halted yesterday, be permitted to sail to the Gulf was abandoned because it was believed help could not even be obtained there.

At Port Arthur, docks were still being picketed and shipping activity was at a standstill except for oil cargo, where longshoremen are not required.

Gulf officials said that if the strike continued and the longshoremen declined to work they would be compelled to load and unload their vessels. The Texas company's "Alabama" went to Port Arthur from Port Neches and planned to sail for the Delaware river without taking on or discharging cargo. Refineries were routing as much goods as possible over railroads.

The only violence reported was

Laffoon Refuses Guard Following Threats of Death

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 3.—(P)

Two national guardsmen armed with rifles patrolled the vicinity between the state capital and the executive mansion today and another patrol was on duty near the state reformatory here following threats upon the life of Governor Ruby Laffoon.

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 3.—(P) Adj. Gen. H. H. Denham assigned state troopers to guard the executive mansion and the capitol because Gov. Ruby Laffoon has received threatening letters, but the governor won't have them around.

Overruling the adjutant-general, the chief executive said: "There are no guards around the mansion and there won't be any."

The adjutant-general was forced to yield. There were no guards at the mansion last night.

"If I get a few minutes notice before anyone starts shooting," the governor said, "I'll outrun any of them in spite of my game leg."

One of the letters threatened the governor's life and a bombing of the mansion unless a pardon was issued within ten days for Neal Bowman, Ohio fugitive charged with two Kentucky murders who is confined in the state reformatory here.

ABANDONED AUTO CAUSES MAN HUNT CENTER IN CHICAGO

BLOOD STAINS INDICATE ONE OF GANGSTERS IS BADLY WOUNDED

CHICAGO, May 3.—(P)—The government's ace man hunters and police marksmen massed forces in the Chicago area today in a new drive to get John Dillinger, "dead or alive."

The discovery of a blood stained automobile—one of two or more special "Dillinger Squad" cars—apparently used in their dash to liberty from the Little Bohemia resort near Mercer, Wis., April 22, spurred the concentration.

Police Captain John Stege's special "Dillinger Squad" comprising the best marksmen of the police force, was under orders to comb all of the city's underworld haunts for the elusive Indiana bad man. There are forty determining men in the squad.

Chas. E. Edwards, a well-known Chicago underworld figure, was found late yesterday, abandoned in a street on the north side. The stains gave rise again to the belief that one of the Dillinger gang had been badly hurt at one time or another after their flight from the resort near where a federal agent and a civilian were shot to death.

The car was stolen from Roy Francis of South St. Paul, Minn., on April 23—the day after the battle of Little Bohemia, after three men riding in a coupe and believed to be Dillinger gangsters, were sighted by Deputy sheriffs at Hastings, Minn.

TAX BILL FINALLY PASSED BY SENATE THURSDAY SESSION

TEN PER CENT EMERGENCY SUPER-INCOME TAX WAS FINALLY ELIMINATED

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(P)—The senate today completed congressional action on the $417,000,000 tax bill by eliminating the 10 per cent emergency super-income tax for next year proposed by Senator Couzens of Michigan.

The conference report was adopted without a record vote and then also without a roll call the senate recessed on the proposed 10 per cent levy on income taxes which the house had turned down by a big majority.

The measure sent to the white house goes a long way toward bolstering the budget and helping to pay the cost of the recovery program, but most of the new revenue will not start coming in until 1935 when a majority of the new taxes are effective.

The legislation makes scores of changes in administrative provisions of existing law to tighten them against tax avoidance, levies higher taxes on the transfer of estates gifts and large individual incomes and imposes a capital stock and excess profits tax against corporations estimated to raise $95,000,000 a year.

Personal holding companies are taxed a high rate of surtax on their undistributed adjusted net income and corporations except railroads may no longer enjoy

UN SOUND PRACTICES AND MISMANAGEMENT CLOSED TRUST BANK

SENATE BANKING COMMITTEE HEARS REPORT ON CLEVELAND CONCERN

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(P)—A grand jury analysis of the Detroit banking situation has been ordered by Attorney General Cummings.

A short while before, unsound practices and mismanagement were reported to the senate banking and stock market investigation committee as the causes of the failure of Cleveland's two big banks—the Guardian Trust company and the Union Trust company.

Cummings told reporters he had designated Guy K. Bard, a special assistant attorney general to handle the Detroit case.

The investigation upon which the criminal proceedings will be brought has included state-wide banking chains controlled by the Guardian Detroit Union Group, Inc., and Detroit Bankers company.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(P)—A report holding that the closing of the Guardian Trust company of Cleveland was the result of "unsound practices and mismanagement" was submitted today to the senate banking and stock market investigation committee.

The report, submitted by Walter H. Seymour, senior examiner for the committee under Ferdinand

SIGNIFICANT MOVES IN MILITARY REALM SEEN OVER EUROPE

RUSSIANS ORDER TRAINING OF YOUTH; CHINESE TRAIN PRISONERS

(By The Associated Press.)
From three European capitals this week have come signs that the governments are looking for security in stronger military forces.

France today revealed that she may double the period of service of her conscripts, giving them two years training instead of one.

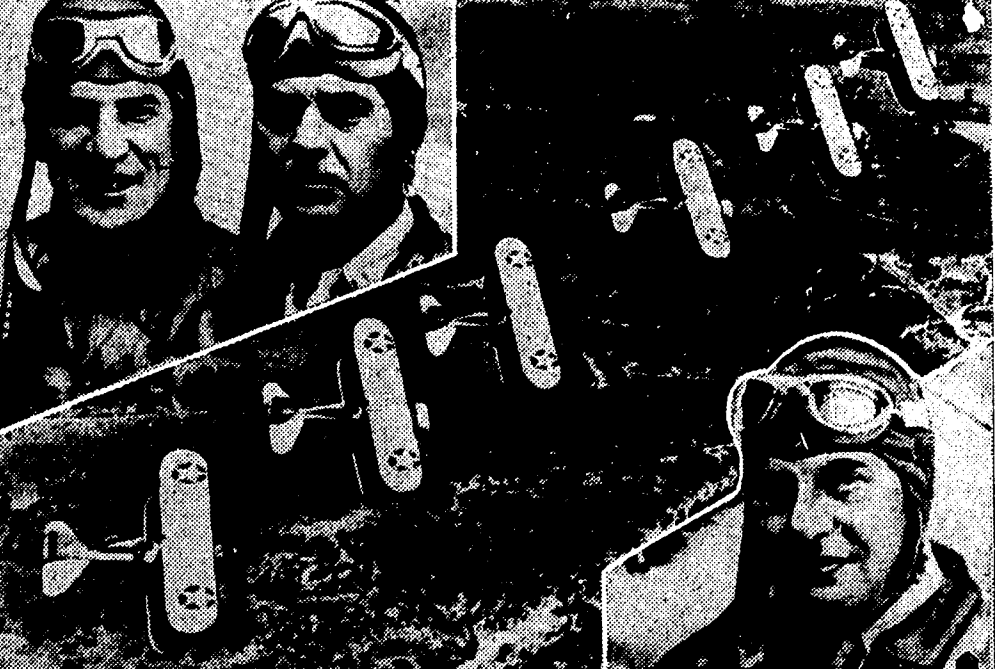

This threat of more soldiers followed closely upon signs that Italy will increase her fighting forces and that Soviet Russia relies upon her powerful Red army as the "merciless defender" of the nation.

The plan of the French general staff to lengthen the service period is expected to meet some opposition in parliament, but it was recalled that before the World war the conscript service was increased up to three years.

King Victor Emmanuel in opening parliament in Rome emphasized increased military power as a means towards peace, and his proposal has been the principal subject of political discussion in that country.

A report of the activities of the chamber was submitted by Secretary Harry Howard; under the head of agricultural activities were the cotton and corn reduction campaigns, community garden project, home canning project, assistance given the production credit association and school of instruction, and emergency crop loan association. Under the head of civic and publicity work were mentioned the President's ball, annual chamber banquet, cleanup drive in connection with the automobile show "Texas Full House Special", membership campaign, highway beautification efforts, and securing of

French Military Service Period May Be Extended

By JOHN EVANS Associated Press Foreign Staff

PARIS, May 3.—(P)—France is considering lengthening military service in the face of the danger the government sees in the policies of Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, it was learned authoritatively today.

Premier Gaston Doumergue, reliable sources said, is backing a proposal by Marshal Henri Pétain, war minister, to increase by stages the 12-months conscript service until eventually it reaches possibly two years.

The French parliament has been hostile to such a measure but the reduction in births during the World War has resulted in diminishing the size of the army and the cabinet favors a bold action to keep France strong in a situation the government regards as full of danger.

CONFERENCE PLANNED TO WORK OUT COMPLIANCE WITH TERMS OF 1934 COTTON CUT CONTRACTS

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(P)—A drive to stop expulsion and alleged abuse of tenant farmers under this year's cotton acreage reduction program was in the making today at the agriculture department.

The first step is to be a conference early next week of cotton state extension directors and farm administration cotton experts.

Secretary Wallace called the parley, saying he wanted a temporary organization established to investigate specific complaints and definite plans to check compliance with reduction contracts and deal with violators.

At the same time the agriculture secretary made public a study by Dr. Calvin B. Hoover, professor of economics at Duke University, concerning the effect of the cotton program on the southern tenant farmer.

In four pointed paragraphs he summarized what he called unde-

HOUSE APPROVED MARGIN REQUIREMENT STOCK MARKET BILL

PROVISION TERMED HEART OF BILL BY RAYBURN OF I. C. COMMITTEE

By CECIL D. DICKSON
WASHINGTON, May 3.—(P)—The house today approved the 45 per cent margin requirement in the stock market control bill.

This provision was termed by Chairman Rayburn (D-Tx) of the Interstate Commerce committee, as "the heart of the bill."

Under the bill, the federal reserve board has the authority to change the 45 per cent margin requirement if it believes that is in the public interest.

By voice vote the house defeated an amendment by Representative Kenney (D-N.J.) to reduce the margin requirement from 45 to 40 per cent and also howled down an amendment by Representative Martin (D-Colo.) to make the 45 per cent mandatory.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(P)—Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the senate banking committee, today challenged the stock exchanges or brokers to refute the evidence he submitted to the committee on market profits and practices.

Pecora made his statement while the house considered the controversial 45 per cent margin requirement in the stock market control bill.

An amendment to reduce it to 40 per cent was offered by Representative Kenney (D-N.J.).

In a sharp reply to the "propaganda" charge hurled against the data by Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, Pecora told reporters his statistics were "no more propaganda than is evidence presented by a cotton picker upon which a judgment is based."

Whitney said the statistics presented by Pecora, showing profits of about a billion dollars to brokers during the past six years, were misleading and designed to put through the stock market control bill.

Pecora replied that "it should

MARGINAL SECTION REGULATORY BILL SUBMITTED HOUSE

DETROIT BANKING WILL BE PROBED BY GRAND JURY; BIG BOOK PROFIT

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(P)—The marginal section of the stock exchange regulation bill, focus of many attacks, was submitted today to the judgment of the house.

While the senate sought to decide whether to back down on the Couzens 10 per cent super-tax and let the bill go to the President, some members paid more notice to the dispute in the other branch over whether to require 45 or 40 per cent margins for stock dealings.

More trouble appeared in store, too, on the 30-hour-week bill. An attempt to force a house vote, contrary to administration wishes, was initiated.

REC Drops Plans.
Concerning the variety of other occurrences, the REC abandoned its plan to press now for authority to make loans to municipalities. It became known that this giant agency has disbursed over $5,000,000. Repayments average $3,000,000 daily.

The justice department made plans to seek strengthening of its anti-crime forces and money to arm them as well as buy speedy automobiles to chase the Dillinger kind.

Senators attention was diverted from maneuvering in the silver cause and like legislative matters by reports from committee investigators attributing failure of the Guardian Trust and Union Trust companies in Cleveland to unsound practice and mismanagement. Those who differ will have their say later.

SINCLAIR-PRAIRIE WORKERS SEMINOLE AREA ON STRIKE

WALKOUT 853 MEN ORDERLY AND SITUATION EXPECTED TO REMAIN QUIET

SEMINOLE, Okla., May 3.—(P)—A total of 853 oil field workers of the Sinclair-Prairie organization in the greater Seminole area walked out of the company's 119 leases this morning, carrying out their strike threat in protest against alleged violation of a tentative labor agreement signed on April 6.

The walkout was orderly and indications were the situation would remain quiet with the oil workers' union offering aid in policing the company's property.

A monthly payroll of between $75,000 and $80,000 was forfeited by the strike action. However E. W. McNamara, Sinclair plant superintendent, announced that the workers would be paid their regular wages on May 5 for work done up to the time of the strike. After the pay day, he said, the company office here would be closed.

Indications were there would be no resistance by either workers or company officials.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT CALLS UPON JAPAN TO OBSERVE TREATY

STRAIGHTFORWARD REPLY ON RECENT STATEMENT CONCERNING CHINA

PARIS, May 3.—(P)—The French government today called upon Japan to observe the nine-power treaty to the letter in a straightforward reply to Tokyo's note explaining Japan's "Asia for Asiatics doctrine."

"In the opinion of the French government," the French reply says, "the only equitable and satisfactory solution of Chinese affairs" lies in "the principles of Washington's document, notably by application of the friendly procedure prescribed by Article 27 of the treaty of Feb. 6, 1922."

The Japanese statement to which the French reply was made is identical to that given to "Washington and London stating that the Japanese has no intention of enfeebling Chinese independence or interests and assuring the western powers that treaties will be respected."

The French government notes with satisfaction," the reply said, "Japan's intention is to remain faithful to international law."

TUCSON, Ariz., May 3.—(P)—The unvoiced fear that little June Robles may never be found alive was felt by many here today—the eighth day since she was kidnapped.

If the family had reason for hope of her return, the fact was not made known. There has been no public announcement of developments in the case for two days. The only definite fact is: The six-year-old child is still missing.

PRESIDENT URGED TO CEASE EXPERIMENTING AND CONGRESS STOP HYSTERICAL LEGISLATION

By J. R. BRACKETT Associated Press Foreign Staff

LONDON, May 3.—(P)—The chamber of commerce of the United States heard today a call requesting President Roosevelt to "cease experimenting" and asking congress to stop enacting "hysterical legislation."

Silas Strawn, former chamber president and a leader of its conservation wing, asserted in an address that business men now wanted "more definite promises" in order to plan their future conduct.

The Chicago lawyer ran directly counter in tenor to the generally approving remarks of Henry H. Harriman, present chamber president, concerning the new deal.

Strawn attacked what he called the abandonment of a scheme of government which has made "us happier and more prosperous than any other nation."

He called for a three-way action by Mr. Roosevelt.

Balancing of all governmental budgets; a definite announcement that there will be no more requests for emergency legislation and "no more tinkering with the dollar"; and a revision of the securities act and proposed stock exchange legislation.

Business men gathered at the annual convention listened to Strawn after hearing Hugh S. Johnson talk of criticism and the throwing of "pop bottles and dead cats" at last night's session.

The NRA chief said his organization had been shaped in part by criticism, asked directly if the

DRY CRUSADER'S NAME ADDED LIST ACTIVE BISHOPS

VOTE ON REASSIGNMENT PROPOSITION ON CONFERENCE FLOOR 269-170

JACKSON, Miss., May 3.—(P)—With a great show of strength, Bishop James Cannon, Jr., the militant dry crusader, today won victory over efforts to superannuate him and was retained for four more years as an active bishop in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Against recommendations of the committee on Episcopal reassignment, Cannon was retained because of his "firmity," the Quadrennial General Conference voted 269 to 170 to retain him as one of the active bishops until 1938 when he is automatically retired under the 72 year age rule.

The bishop's greatest strength came from the Pacific coast where conferences turned the tide for Cannon in practically a solid bloc and their leaders said they would welcome him for assignment.

Bishop Cannon was wretched in smiles as the conference placed his name on the roll of active bishops. Leaders in the retirement plan readily conceded defeat and said that no further effort would be made to superannuate him at the current conference.

JACKSON, Miss., May 3.—(P)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., the militant dry crusader of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, today won his preliminary fight for continuance in office as a bishop when a test vote in the Quadrennial General Conference ordered his name added to the list of bishops recommended for effective reassignment.

The vote was 269 for reassignment and 170 against, or a majority of 98 votes for Bishop Cannon, which gave the "Bismarck" pronounced victory over his opponents.

Bishop Cannon was wretched in smiles over the decision of the conference to retain him as an active member of the College of Bishops.

After the vote was announced he said he had no statement to make, that the conference had snuffed out his bid for retirement. He occupied his accustomed seat on the rostrum among his fellow bishops during bitter debate over his proposed superannuation which came up suddenly and defeated the regular order of business.

The vote, a record one, was taken on an amendment made by Judge Nathan Newby, of the Pacific conference, to place the "wet crusader" on the reassignment list.

Character Is Passed.
The committee on Episcopacy, with Dr. J. W. Perry of Chattanooga as its head, favorably upon the character of all of the active bishops, including Cannon, but omitted his name from their report asking reassignment in three districts.

Strawn debated then put out in the conference. His supporters charged that Bishop Cannon was being "crucified" and that the church was "surrendering" to the "wet crusade" and the "Bismarck Catholics," if Cannon should be

The precautionary movement of the Penzance was regarded as a part of an official indication that Great Britain is ready to take action to defend the frontiers for which she is responsible if Ibn Saud's triumphant advance into Yemen inspires a greater Arabian movement.

Great Britain already has taken other steps to protect British life and property in the fighting area which thus far has been restricted to southwest Arabia.

ISSUE OF WORLD'S SOVEREIGNTY PREFIGURED IN OLIVET OVATION*

Story of Triumphal Entry of Jesus Into Jerusalem Fraught with Present-Day Implications—Drama Staged on Hill that Looks Two Ways.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

When the Kaiser entered Jerusalem he bled a white horse, and had the Jaffa Gate enlarged to make way for his spectacular pageant. But when Jesus rode into Jerusalem as king He sat on a lowly ass, and arrived by the eastern gate, from the Mount of Olives. Only He understood the softness of lowliness. Julius Caesar once entered Rome in a chariot drawn by forty elephants; Mark Anthony had lions for steeds. They could not imagine the might of meekness which this Teacher-King from Nazareth taught.

Nevertheless, it was a triumphal entry that Jesus made. And hundreds of millions of persons still celebrate it yearly as Palm Sunday. Jesus accepted and asserted His kingly right and role. He knew full well that Calvary lay ahead. But He would not be denied His hour of accepted sovereignty. The hosannas of the multitude, the waving palm branches, the spread of cloaks, the shouting, leaping, excited crowds, expressing their acclaim in devout ways, were all received as His right; and they were sweet to Him.

Only the soul which knows its Gethsemane and Golgotha but never experiences a time of triumph. There is need in every life for high hours of ecstasy and emotion. The thrill of self-sacrifice at its best is every mortal's due. God never intended human existence to be a drab and unrelieved stretch to endurance. Happiness, recognition and power are essential part of every life. Inheritance is a misbegotten Puritanism which shrinks from them.

The Hill that Looks Two Ways—Most of us are hazy in our geography. The strangely stupid and mixed reports which the press associations first sent out of the alleged discovery of the Queen of Sheba's capital were typical of this modern weakness. Few Christians have any clear conception of Bible Lands. The location and nature of the Mount of Olives are only dimly in most minds.

Olivet was the stage of some of the most dramatic experiences in the life of Jesus. On its southeastern shoulder, in the town of Bethany, He made His home when visiting Jerusalem. Many great events in the Gospel story were enacted. On the Mount of Olives He wept over Jerusalem. There He agonized in the Garden. Triumphal Entry Olivet was the hill of tears, but also the hill of triumph.

Olivet looks two ways. It is only slightly higher than Jerusalem itself, from which it is divided by a deep valley, through which the brook, Kedron, runs. A man standing on the walls of Jerusalem and calling may be heard by persons on the slope of Olivet. The hill does overlook the city; and from its height Jesus often brooded over Jerusalem, and looked down the valley toward the hills of Bethany and the wilderness.

The Mount of Olives looks to the East, where the Jordan Valley lies like a green ribbon, and the Dead Sea shimmers in the sunlight, and the misty mountains of Moab rise beyond. The outlook from Olivet was like the panorama of our Lord's life: from the Field of the Shepherds, the wilderness of the temptation, and the scene of His healings and teachings to the Holy City itself, with ghastly Calvary rising just outside the walls. It was a rare stage on which the drama of the Transfiguration began.

By Prearrangement Jesus did not stumble upon the triumphant entry by accident. To think so is to rob the occasion of most of its significance. It was by foresight and prearrangement that He met the Passover multitude, and received its plaudits to His kingship. The incident of the ass and colt, which were awaiting His messengers, like the circumstances of finding the Upper Room, indicate forethought and preparation. Deliberately and definitely, Jesus made ready to be acknowledged as King David's royal Son.

This dramatic assertion of His sovereignty should be given full weight. The ovation was Christ's kingly right, and He wanted all the world to know it. Even self-engrossed Jerusalem must understand that it was no common man they were soon to lead forth to death, but the Fulfiller of the most sacred prophecies. Let not the heartiness of Christ obscure His kingly claims. As fully and as clearly as possible. He made evident His right to royal honors.

When scandalized Pharisees asked Jesus to rebuke the popular demonstration, to still the hosannas and silence the shouts of His Royalty, He declared that if these were quiet, the very stones would cry out the character of the King who, riding on a lowly ass, colt, accepted as His due the tribute of the masses.

Has Democracy Clear Eyes? Many reasons moved together to create this tumult of recognition of the Christ—the raising of Lazarus; the recent miracles in Jericho; the teachings and healings in the towns of Galilee; the championship of the poor; the presentation of the dream of the kingdom that was to come. All of the Master's past conspired to create this present hour. His name had filled the mouths of the people; and His presence at the Feast was their opportunity to express their verdict upon Him.

The Triumphal Entry was a demonstration and decree of democracy. It is of immense concern to all of us to realize that the insight of the people as a whole is usually clearer and truer than the sophisticated opinions of any officialdom. That truth is the basis of our form of Government; and it is our bulwark against any discreditable interference about the act of the voice of the people in expression. All of us recall the delicious outbursts, on November 11, 1918, which marked the end of the war. Some of us saw Europe popular hysteria (profoundly right in its judgment) over President Wilson's arrival. I have seen the same mood in Egypt's demonstration over what it thought the granting of independence; and in Turkey's emotional celebration of its Independence Day. Somehow, the common mind is quick to be stirred by a great and portentous reality. It was the voice of the people that hailed Jesus as king, that day when He rode, meekly and majestically, down the western slope of Olivet, into the city of the royal forbears, the acclaim following him clear into the sacred precincts of the temple.

The Sovereign's Right to Rule. In the courts of His Father's house, Jesus vindicated His sovereignty by driving out the money changers and the merchants. Reform must always begin at the house of God. If religion is corrupt or incompetent at the center of its organization and administration, then nothing else can be right. Come day—soon, I believe—the world will awaken to the basic truth that the spring of all needed reform and recovery lies in religion.

Obviously, the central lesson of this Lesson lies in the truth of the sovereignty of the Saviour. Not Communism nor Fascism is our way out, but the accepted way of the King whose right it is to rule. We are dealing only with the surface expressions of the troubles of our time until we realize that nothing but the recognized rule of Jesus Christ over

COMMISSIONERS NOTIFIED
OPPOSITION WILL BE OFFERED TO PROPOSAL

That an effort will be made to consolidate justice precinct 7 with precinct 1, Navarro county, was intimated before the Navarro county commissioners court Tuesday morning when W. S. Bell, constable of precinct 7 for a number of years, appeared before the court and said that he would present a petition against the consolidation at the proper time. Whether the proponents of the consolidation will present a petition to the court for the abolition of that precinct and annex the territory to precinct 1 was not revealed. Constable Bell was advised that should the petition be presented, a hearing would be set down and all interested parties would have a chance to appear and be heard.

No official intimation has been made to the court of such a movement. It has been reported in rumors and conversation by citizens. The move, it is reported, originated in precinct 7 and not in precinct 1. The consolidation of the precincts would abolish the justice court and constable's office at Eureka.

The court declined to purchase public liability and workman's liability insurance after a discussion was held.

Several tax and right-of-way matters were discussed.

Critics were allowed except as noted on the claim docket.

Industrial Leader And Philanthropist Dies in Cincinnati

WILLIAM COOPER PROCTER

CINCINNATI, May 2.—(P)—Col. William Cooper Procter, 72, Cincinnati industrial leader and philanthropist, died this morning.

He was a victim of bronchial pneumonia.

The 72-year-old chairman of the board of the Procter and Gamble company entered the hospital Saturday. He rallied somewhat Monday, but early yesterday suffered another relapse and his condition grew worse throughout the day.

Dr. L. F. Barker, of Baltimore, renowned pathologist and authority on pneumonia, was summoned to Col. Procter's side.

Colonel Procter returned to Cincinnati from New York and Philadelphia last Friday, suffering from what he believed to be a slight cold.

Col. Procter's death followed by barely two years that of James N. Gamble, his business associate who, with him, built to huge proportions business founded by their grandfathers.

Col. Procter was attending a meeting of the council of the Protestant Episcopal church in New York City when he fell ill.

Educated at Princeton, he plunged into the family industry almost at once, and at once started on a series of innovations that, starting at the time, since have become almost commonplace.

It was he who is generally credited with establishing the Saturday half holiday for workers; with inaugurating employee representation in management; and with creation of an employee profit-sharing plan later amplified by guaranteed year-round employment for his plant workers.

His interests were not confined to industry, however.

Though his philanthropies were never widely heralded, he was known as a contributor heavily towards needs of Princeton University, and gave $2,500,000 to the Children's Hospital here.

In addition, he was chairman of the national committee organized in 1928 by Herbert Hoover, then secretary of commerce, to bring about greater efficiency and economy in community chest and social service work. A year before he was general chairman of the community chest drive of his native city.

ONE-TIME CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR HELD IN DALLAS JAIL

DALLAS, May 2.—(P)—Mrs. Kate Johnston, 50, one-time candidate for governor of Texas, was in jail here today awaiting trial May 11 on five forgery indictments.

She protested to officers against the detention of her 27-year-old daughter, Evelyn, whom the grand jury no-billed in a forgery case yesterday.

"They have no right to hold my daughter," Mrs. Johnston asserted. "She has never been in any kind of trouble and the grand jury has exonerated her. Yet they continue to hold her in jail."

The jury returned true bills against Mrs. Johnston in five forgery cases, at the same time no-billing her in three other cases.

Authorities refused to release Mrs. Johnston's daughter after she was no-billed, explaining they had "hold orders" on her from Fort Worth and Houston.

Mrs. Johnston and her daughter have been in jail here since April 20, having been arrested at Waco by Detective L. C. Simmons.

Card of Thanks.
We extend to our many friends our sincere thanks and appreciation for the kind words of sympathy, acts of kindness and the beautiful floral offerings extended us during the illness and funeral of our father, Geo. "The Basis of Comparison"

NOW...for the first time a tire with NO WEAK SPOTS

You have heard so many claims about tire safety that perhaps you have begun to doubt the claims that you read. But if you will look into tire history, you will know that when Seiberling makes an announcement of a new tire development you can believe every word. For since 1898, as the records show, F. A. Seiberling has contributed practically every major improvement to tire safety and to tire endurance.

Knowing these facts, we believe that you will buy the new Seiberling Vapor Cured tires with full confidence that they are truly safer than other tires and will deliver greater mileage. With the Vapor Cure—a new exclusive Seiberling process—Seiberling positively safeguards you against the chief cause of tire failure. For the Seiberling Vapor Cure process enables only Seiberling to build a tire with NO WEAK SPOTS—a tire vulcanized by a slow, gentle steam vapor into a single unit of live rubber and live cotton.

Ask us to explain exactly how—exactly why these new Vapor Cured Seiberlings are safer and longer wearing—why they cost no more. It's a plain, understandable story—because it's truthful. May we have the opportunity to talk tires with you?

BUDGETARY SUNSHINE

The British government has adopted what Englishmen call a "sunshine budget." But there's no sunshine in it for Uncle Sam.

Relieved by a surplus of $200,000,000 for the last fiscal year, Chancellor Neville Chamberlain reduces income taxes, restores half the government employees' pay cuts, lowers the automobile tax and restores the dole to the unemployed. All of which is no more than right, because the British have been taxed grievously, and the poor have suffered greatly, for the sake of national solvency.

It is discouraging, though, to learn that once more the British budget makes no allowance for war debt payment. There will be merely another slight "token payment" to avoid technical repudiation. Still, word from Washington is that our own Treasury estimates are "not upset." We weren't expecting much from London.

A statement made by the British Chancellor to Parliament is interesting in this connection. "Neither last year nor the year before," he said, "did I make any provision for the payment of the war debt to America—nor for the receipt of war debts or reparations by ourselves."

Britain's own war debtors, who owe her as much as she owes us, are not paying either. And it is doubtful whether any of the whole shooting match ever will make any substantial payment again, if we insist on payment in full.

FORCES FOR GOOD

An American college president, returning from a six-months tour during which he visited 28 different countries, admits the seriousness of war threat in many parts of the world. He found, he believes, deliberate and malicious attempts to provoke war spirit among nations. At the same time, he found hopeful factors often overlooked by persons concentrating on the war scare.

"The forces for international amity are stronger than they were a generation ago," says this observer.

That may seem contradictory, but need not be so. Wherever intelligent people hope and work to preserve world peace, they are doing so not blindly, by mere wishful thinking. They are seriously studying the causes of war in order to develop the cure. A competent observer becomes aware of the strength of the international peace movement as soon as he becomes aware of the strains and tensions making for war. The forces for evil seem more powerful than ever, but the forces for good are also more powerful than ever and more numerous. Continued faith in them and a little steadier support of them by all of us can hold the evil in check.

TASKS FOR THE LEAGUE

Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War during the World War, has faith in the League of Nations. He recognizes its weaknesses and mistakes, but sees a reason for them. He believes it may be possible to correct them later.

He sees also, as unsympathetic critics do not, that the League is not dead, in spite of many failures. It is playing an essential and useful role in international affairs. One of its services has been the creation of commissions of inquiry to investigate some of the in-

ROAD TO PROMOTION

Which the road to the better post?
Tell him if he shall ask.
How from the little to gain the most.

And the way to the greater task:
That only he rises to larger things
Who to the lesser his courage brings.

How do men prove their utmost worth?
Not by a single bound.
The ladder that leads to the heights of earth

Must clambered be, round by round.
And who from the lesser with- holds his best
Will never be called for the great- er test.

Slighting the little and scorning the small
Is failing right at the start.
For there's never a task worth doing at all

That doesn't uncover the heart.
And who would be called for the larger deed
Must first with the trivial task succeed.

DOG HEAVEN

There is much to do about an airedale dog in Topeka, Kan., whose mistress, dying, left a request that he follow her. Friends and executors don't know whether to kill "Pal" or not. It could be done simply and painlessly by chloroform, but many insist that "he's too fine a dog to die." He has won many ribbons at shows, also a medal for an act of heroism in behalf of his mistress.

The owner's desire to have him accompany her in death is explained by her fear that Pal might fall into less sympathetic hands than hers. But that probably isn't all. She may have wanted Pal on the lonesome trip she was taking. Indians used to feel that way about their dogs. Indeed, many races have taken with them in death—or tried to—both dogs and horses.

If there is a heaven for human beings, many argue, why not for dogs, who have so many of the same qualities? If the higher types of mind or soul survives, why not the lower? Buddhists hold that the spirits of all creatures continue, returning periodically to clothe themselves in the flesh again. But these things are too deep for us—or as Solomon expressed it, "too high."

THE FIFTH-STATE RACE

From 1910 to 1930, according to the U. S. Census, Texas was fifth state in population. Now, the Census Bureau estimates, it has been passed by California. This may not seem particularly disturbing to any of the other 46 states, but it has Texas aroused.

The Texas Weekly points out, however, that at present it is largely a matter of immigration. There has been a marked trend of people from other states to California in the last 20 years. Mostly they have been adults, retiring to live on incomes where they could escape violent weather changes and heavy heating bills. But, Texas points out, though California has more residents, Texas has far more potential fathers and mothers. The Texas population contains more young people.

In 1930, when Texas had 1,470,000 more people than California, the latter state had 700,000 more over 30 years of age than Texas, and Texas had 875,000 more under 30 years of age.

Studying those figures suggests that all Texas has to do to regain its lost population lead is to compete a little with California in advertising for a few newcomers and at the same time to encourage its own young people to stay in Texas, marry there and bring up their children as loyal Texans.

tricate problems of the world.

It appears now to have been a mistake to try to make the League enforce the Treaty of Versailles. In that task it has failed completely; but it was an impossible task to begin with. As a forum for international discussion of mutual interests, as a central organization for collection and dissemination of important data, as a meeting place for powers really trying to keep peace in the world, the League is on the job and is becoming indispensable.

Great surprise in Italian election. Mussolini-land votes for Mussolini.

HELP!

SMART SWIMMERS

As the swimming season approaches, it may be well to plant a few pertinent facts where they will do the most good.

It is mostly the show-offs who get drowned. And naturally these are mostly the young men. There is a show-off age, you know. The years from 15 to 19, says a Red Cross life-saving expert, are the dangerous ones. The boys try to show the girls what good swimmers they are. As a result, eight or ten boys drown to one girl.

It might be thought that married men would try to show off before their wives. Sometimes they do. But the wives, says the same expert, are a stabilizing influence. It is no use, anyway. Their wives are onto them.

When girls are drowned, it is usually because they trusted some "superior" male to take them out to a raft, or in a boat, and bring them back safely. Often the superior young man can't even bring himself back. It might not be fair to lay this down as a general rule; but in the water, girls, suspect every smart young man.

A BETTER, CLEANER FAIR

If early announcements of the second session of Chicago's Century of Progress Fair are true, the management of that great enterprise seems to have learned a lesson.

This year, they say, there will be less ballyhoo and more beauty. The type of entertainment is to be changed. What is left of the midway will be removed from the commanding position it occupied last year and placed where those who seek it can find it, but where other fair-goers will no longer be annoyed by its noise, tawdriness and vulgarity. It has been promised that some of the midway's worst features will be entirely eliminated.

All this is as it should be, and as it should have been in the first place.

Sympathy goes out to Dr. Wirt's hostess on that now famous occasion. It's bad enough to give a dinner party that turns out to be a "flop" without having it blazoned to the whole world in a Senate investigation months later!

It might as well be understood, once for all, that it isn't safe to talk about public affairs at private parties. If you want to say anything revolutionary and get away with it, say it right out in public like the other fellows.

DEMOCRATIC MUSIC

Most great orchestras in America are either endowed or supported by wealthy patrons. The Seattle Symphony Orchestra has the distinction of being an organization that can pay its own way.

Last fall it began cutting prices for various concerts from $3 to 50 cents. Instead of losing money it broke even. Orchestras, says Basil Cameron, director of the Seattle organization, have got to change with the changing times. "They've got to cut prices; hire larger halls; they've got to cater to many more people."

Another orchestra director, Artur Rodzinski of Cleveland, made a similar comment recently. "American music must be made more democratic," he said, after showing, during the past season, several ways to do it. The Cleveland orchestra gave a series of popular-priced concerts in addition to the regular symphony series, and also gave half a dozen morning concerts for school children, at very low prices.

The pleasant fact about all such efforts is that they have met with wholehearted response from the public. Fine concerts at popular prices usually have large and enthusiastic audiences.

Automobiling will never reach its zenith until the gasoline industry adopts the strategy of the safety razor industry and gives autos away to gain customers.

Sure, buyers' psychology is better. Thousands of people who can't pay their old debts yet are confidently incurring new ones.

MORE THAN 50% LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE

IN THE NEW Firestone
HIGH SPEED TIRE FOR 1934

The new Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 is the greatest tire Firestone has ever built. With its wider, flatter tread, greater thickness, deeper non-skid, more and tougher rubber, and greater non-skid contact with the road, you get more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

This new development is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, whereby the cotton fibers inside the high-stretch cords are soaked and coated with pure liquid rubber. This provides greater strength, safety and blowout protection.

Firestone engineers pioneered and developed the first successful balloon tire in 1923, and it is only natural that Firestone would lead in the further development of tire construction to meet the demands of the high-powered high-speed cars of today.

The new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934, have already proved their worth by constant testing on the Firestone fleet of test cars over all kinds of roads and highways throughout the United States.

Firestone High Speed Tires are further subjected to the most severe tests known on the greatest proving grounds in the world—the Indianapolis Speedway. In fact, Firestone Tires have been on the winning cars in the annual 500-Mile Indianapolis Race for fourteen consecutive years—conclusive evidence of Firestone's outstanding leadership in tire development and construction.

BEAUTIFUL ROSES GROWN IN GARDEN JUST OUTSIDE CITY

Miss Fannie Rice, a lover of nature and beautiful flowers and a loyal Corsican, brought a most beautiful bouquet of roses to the Sun office Thursday morning from the garden of Mrs. Henry L. Albritton who had asked that they be presented to the Sun. Miss Rice also had the following to say about growing of beautiful roses in and about Corsicana:

"Why waste our time and gasoline to go to Tyler and East Texas to see beautiful roses when within our very own city we have a garden of more than two acres of most gorgeous roses of every color and variety. This wonderful rose garden is situated north-east of town within a mile, on the home place of Mrs. Henry L. Albritton, and is planted and cultivated entirely under her care and direction. With a deep sandy soil with a clay sub-soil, like the East Texas rose growing district, it is peculiarly adapted to rose culture, and the roses grown in these gardens rival the famous East Texas roses.

"There were no roses shown at the Rose Festival last October in Tyler that equaled, much less surpassed, the Corsicana roses grown by one of our own citizens. During the prolonged drought of last summer and fall these roses bloomed continuously without one drop of water other than the natural rain-fall, and all through the Christmas and New Year holidays this rose garden was one mass of bloom.

"These roses are now in the hey-day of their blooming, and Mrs. Albritton would be very glad for any of our citizens who love flowers to drive out and see them. She is very generous with her flowers, and great bouquets of the lovely roses go to the hospitals every day, and also to anyone she hears of that is sick or in trouble.

"It is to be regretted that this lovely display of roses is not situated on one of the main highways through our beautiful city so that tourists passing through could carry with them pleasant memories of a lovely sight."

Riptide Opens at Palace Sunday

Robert Montgomery and Norma Shearer in "Riptide"

Norma Shearer comes to the motion picture screen after an absence of some eighteen months as the glamorous heroine of "Riptide," her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle which opens Sunday at the Palace Theatre.

Familiar in dating sophistry to her famous characterizations in "The Divorcee," "A Free Soul," "Strangers May Kiss" and "Strange Interlude," the new Shearer vehicle brings to the screen a romance smartly Continental in locale and sensational in triangular motivation. This is Miss Shearer's first screen offering since "Smilin' Through," winner of the 1932 Photoplay Gold Medal Award. During her vacation Miss Shearer accompanied her husband, Irving G. Thalberg, on an extended visit to Europe. Thalberg, returning to his M-G-M executive post, produced "Riptide" as the first picture on his new program.

The story, written especially for Miss Shearer, was authored by Edmund Goulding, who also directed the picture.

OTHER ARKANSAS DESPERADO KILLED IN GUARD ATTACK

TERRIFIC FIGHTING FOLLOWS ATTACK ON TAXI-CABS IN FRANCE

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark., May 2. (P)—Cliff Harback, western Arkansas desperado under a life sentence for a bank robbery murder, was slain in a break for freedom here today.

Harback, who attacked a guard with a hoe was the fourth convict slain by trusty guards at the prison farm in the last week and a half, and the eighth killed this year.

Harback was serving a life sentence for the murder of Dolph Guthrie, a teller, following the robbery of the First National bank of Paris, Ark., last year. His brother, Eugene, is serving a ten-year sentence and Johnny Wilson is under a life sentence for the same crime.

A. G. Stedman, prison superintendent, said that Harback with other convicts was cutting weeds when he attacked the guard with a hoe. The guard, whose name was withheld pending a coroner's inquest, escaped the blows, and shot Harback with a shotgun.

Wilson, partner of Harback in the Paris bank robbery, figured in a January 17 break in which four convicts were killed and two wounded. Wilson was not hurt.

The slaying of Harback ended a ten-year criminal career beginning with his sentence to the Oklahoma reformatory for robbery at the age of sixteen. He escaped from there on a break but was recaptured and served his five-year sentence.

In recent years, he has been identified as a participant in numerous western Arkansas robberies, and also was suspected of the murder of Elmore Brown at Van Buren, Ark., during a robbery.

The life sentence he was serving at the time of his death was imposed after he was captured and wounded at Hot Springs last Feb. 17.

PITCHED BATTLE IN PARIS STREETS AT CLOSE MAY DAY

By STUART MORONEY
Associated Press Foreign Staff

PARIS, (P)—Police fought a pitched battle with communists in a "tough" quarter of Paris early today as a climax to "Red May Day" in France.

Four policemen were wounded as the communists, entrenched in flaming barricades in a blind alley and windows of a municipally owned apartment, poured a stream of pistol fire into the ranks of police and mounted guards.

After a four-hour siege, police commanded their prefect, Roger Langerson, in person, able to storm the communists' citadel and drive them to cover.

By 5:30 a. m. calm had been restored, but armed guards carrying bullet-proof shields and pistols swept into the apartment house fortress, routing the defenders and hustling the captives off to jail.

The rioting flared at midnight when a surprising quiet descended on the nation over hundreds of communists showing defiance and entrenched themselves in the alley.

Ripping up floors and tearing out walls in the apartment building, the reds dug in with a trench across the alleyway and raised barricades to the Rue Nationale, along the left bank of the Seine, to which the alley extended.

Later, they took a leaf from the book of socialists who fought in Vienna's recent civil war and turned the fourth and fifth floors of the building into a fortress. There they continued their resistance until dawn.

Thousands of police and mobile guards were rushed to the scene when bullets began flying about the small squads of early arrivals.

The communists set fire to their alley barricades from behind the protecting screen of flame, they fired at the police. Snipers blasted away from windows.

Started Over Trifle. It was nearly dawn before the police, who delayed a determined charge to avoid fatalities, leaped across the flaming barricades to the alley and swarmed upon the house. Hand-to-hand fighting ensued.

Today it was disclosed that the riot was caused by a comparative lack of food.

The communists sought to prevent taxi-cabs from leaving a garage in opposition to the May Day communist-sponsored general strike. Several cabs were smashed. A number of drivers were beaten.

The rioters then tore up pavement and raised a barricade to prevent cabs from passing. When police were called, firing started.

BRITAIN, ALARMED AT SPREAD OF JAPANESE TRADE, EXPECTED TO RESTRAIN COLONIAL BUYING

By HAROLD P. BRAMAN
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

LONDON, May 3. (P)—Walter Runciman, president of the British board of trade, is expected in well-informed circles to inform Ambassador Tsuruoka Matsudaira of Japan, at a conference late today, that Great Britain has completed proposals to restrict the importation of Japanese goods into British colonies.

It was indicated that the interview was regarded as most serious in the face of world competition between Great Britain and Japan for trade markets.

In many areas, Japanese goods are underselling the British and others considerably and Japan has made rapid strides forward in the textile business, long a mainstay of England.

The British are understood to

U. S. Ladybird and Course Around South America

In danger of being just another "forgotten ladybird," after her plans for a trans-Atlantic flight flopped in 1931, Laura Ingalls, American aviatrix, has won a place among the foremost aviators of the world, male and female, by her remarkable solo flight around South America. Although Miss Ingalls asserted she was making the 15,000-mile trip "just for the fun of it," friends of the flier hope that the prestige thus obtained may get her backing for participation in the London-Melbourne international air race next October. Besides the glory that would fall to the winner of the derby from Britain to Australia, there is a cash prize of $50,000. But Miss Ingalls would require a faster plane than the craft she used in her South American circuit, in which she became the third woman in history to fly across the Andes.

DETAILS OF "JEWISH PLOT TO MURDER HITLER" REVIEWED IN SPECIAL EDITION IN BERLIN

By WALTER BROCKMAN
Associated Press Foreign Staff

BERLIN, May 3. (P)—Details of a "Jewish plot to murder Adolf Hitler" appeared today in an officially-censored special edition of the anti-Semitic weekly, "The Stormer."

Twelve pages were devoted to discussion of "Jewish ritual murder," climaxed with the allegation that world Jewry is planning "the biggest, most gruesome ritual murder against Hitler and his followers ever witnessed by the world."

Asserting that Czar Nicholas was a victim of a similar plot, the paper said "the Aryans of the world, the pick of humanity, are to be annihilated."

"That is the wish of all Jewdom and it has been resolved by the Jewish Kahal (Jewish secret world government)."

As chief evidence of the asserted plot, the Stormer cited what was presented as a Jewish new year postcard, dated 1933, which was reproduced showing a sacrificial altar, swastika-marked and bearing a picture of the head of Hitler.

"This demonic wish," the paper said in referring to the plan, "shall never reach fulfillment. The Jewish problem is nearing solution."

Then it gave instructions for rendering the "Jewish pest" impotent on a world-wide scale. Anti-Semitic propaganda and tireless agitation were advocated.

The paper has a circulation of about 50,000, but 130,000 copies were printed in the current edition. It is published by Julius Streicher, Nazi chief editor for Franco. It lays claim to being the "greatest anti-Semitic newspaper in the world."

As for the future of the plot, the Stormer said that "with the continued activity of the attorney general's department we hope to achieve even better results."

In fight against hot oil, however, must be constant and not sporadic, Parker said.

"As soon as we get control and break up illegal operations in one part of the field it crops out in another and we must be on the alert at all times," he said.

Handicapped by lack of men, the commission, Parker said, also is handicapped by lack of man power resulting from insufficient funds. Parker disclosed that employees experienced in proration enforcement in other fields were being shifted to East Texas. "We could use more men handily," he added.

A more optimistic attitude on the part of operators has followed the commission's drive, Parker reported, saying the operators felt much better.

Parker said several of the refineries that were closed by injunction as one of the first steps in the drive were acting to assure themselves of a supply of legal oil.

Adequate regulation of reclaiming plants was regarded by Parker as essential to the enforcement program. The reclaiming plants, he said, offered an opportunity to "deal in hot oil."

The power of the commission to supervise reclaiming plants is being tested in the federal court. "We can effectively control them if permitted to do so," Parker said.

Increase in the number of assistant attorneys general in the oil field was recommended by Parker. He says the existing staff was badly overworked and could not take care of the complaints as fast as they were reported.

Parsons said the attorney general's force was seriously and had become increasingly so since Neal Powers, in charge of be alarmed at the spread of Japanese trade through the colonies and Africa, one of the chief centers affected.

The British government has made extensive studies of the situation since the breakdown of the London negotiations between British and Japanese textile interests.

It is understood that Runciman will present a full picture of the British position to the Japanese ambassador.

Unless Japan offers some form of settlement of the problem, it is understood that Great Britain will abandon all efforts to ease the competition between the two nations.

Runciman was reported to be ready to inform Matsudaira that the restrictions on Japanese imports into colonies would take the form of quotas on imports.

Strange Case of Victoria Woman Attracts Interest

VICTORIA, May 2. (P)—Mrs. Ernest W. Conway, whose strange disappearance on March 27 led to the belief she had drowned in the Guadalupe river, was found alive today—four blocks from her home—and still dressed in the night clothes she was wearing when she disappeared.

The 45-year-old woman was found by E. A. McElroy, dairyman, who was making his deliveries. She had been lying on the ground in the rear of H. H. McDowell's residence. When she saw McElroy, she raised her body with difficulty and beckoned to him. The dairyman immediately recognized her and carried her to his truck. She was too weak to walk.

A night gown, gloves and bedroom slippers were found in the house which she was making his deliveries. She had been lying on the ground in the rear of H. H. McDowell's residence. When she saw McElroy, she raised her body with difficulty and beckoned to him. The dairyman immediately recognized her and carried her to his truck. She was too weak to walk.

Mrs. Conway told McElroy, who had been in the Guadalupe river bottoms above Victoria and for the past week had subsisted solely on grass and water.

However, in another statement to her sister, Mrs. Lucy Burnet, she told of having hid under a house within seven blocks of her home all the time she had been missing. She told her sister she had eaten nothing during that time.

At night, she said, she had come out from under the house and drunk water from a near by hydrant.

She was very weak and emaciated but had kept her hair in order and did not appear unkempt. When she disappeared she weighed 163 pounds and when found had lost so much weight she was reduced to extreme thinness.

A physician was summoned immediately and her sister, a nurse from Boston, cared for her. The sister had been here for the past year attending her. Mrs. Conway's husband also was called.

This was the fourth time Mrs. Conway had disappeared. On one occasion she was rescued from Galveston Bay. Another time she was found wandering in the woods near Bloomington.

Her sister said economic conditions had preyed on her mind and she had a constant dread of starvation.

That the story Mrs. Conway told the dairymen was based on fact was evidenced by her having been seen late yesterday by Mrs. J. Harry Jones and Mrs. C. H. Worthing while they were out riding. They said they saw a woman coming up the road from the river.

Mrs. Conway's husband, formerly prominent in Y. M. C. A. work in Texas and other states, is now serving as a field secretary for the Texas relief commission with headquarters at Big Spring.

He returned immediately after his wife disappeared and had an army plane from Fort Crockett, Galveston, join in the search for her. The Conways have one son, E. W. Conway, Jr., 14, attending school here.

REPORT ON WIRT CHARGES AGAINST "BRAIN TRUSTERS"

WASHINGTON, May 2. (P)—Widely divergent democratic and republican views were submitted to the house today to wind up its investigation of Dr. William A. Wirt's allegations that administration "brain trusters" were seeking to overthrow the existing social order.

The majority report, signed by three democrats on the special house committee, concluded there was no foundation for the Gary, Ind., schoolmaster's assertions.

The two republican committee members in separate opinions, held that a thorough investigation had not been made.

It is not necessary for the house to act on any of the reports.

Chairman Bulwinkle of North Carolina and Representatives Arnold of Illinois and O'Connor of New York concurred in the majority view which was summarized in this fashion:

"The committee is of the opinion and reports to the house x x that the testimony given at the hearing, and all facts and circumstances connected therewith, clearly shows that the statements made by Dr. William A. Wirt x x are not true, and that the five persons in the employ of the United States government and the newspaper correspondent who were present at the dinner in Virginia on September 1, 1933, did not make any such statements as were alleged to have been made by them to Dr. Wirt."

"From all of the evidence presented to the committee, there was none whatever showing that there was any person or group in the government service planning to overthrow the existing social order or planning or doing any of the things mentioned in Dr. Wirt's statement x x x."

Representative Lehibach (R-N.J.) termed the investigation an "utterly futile proceeding" and said the committee booted away its opportunity.

It should have been determined the real purposes of the "brain trust," he contended.

Representative McGugin (R-Kan.) contended the majority committee members were interested only in "suppressing the truth with no reasonable desire or effort to obtain the truth."

Of the Virginia dinner party, where Doctor Wirt said he heard the revolutionary talk by six other persons, McGugin reported:

"The majority members of the committee in accepting the testimony of these six witnesses and denouncing the testimony of Dr. Wirt disclose their determination in this proceeding to protect and exonerate those who were not in sympathy with traditional American government under the constitution."

DILLINGER ACE MACHINE GUN KILLER BEEN IDENTIFIED AS BUYER OF SAN ANTONIO GUNS

SAN ANTONIO, May 1. (P)—a charge of receiving and retailing government property; to-wit, a .45 caliber automatic pistol.

Government agents reported finding a .45 caliber automatic pistol which was being made into a machine gun and a dismantled Thompson sub-machine gun in perfect working order when they searched Lehman's store Sunday.

In his statement, Lehman said that the converted automatic pistol was being made on an order from Van Meter, alias Huttner.

George "Baby Face" Nelson, one of John Dillinger's ace machine gun killers, has been positively identified as the "Jimmie Williams" to whom H. S. Lehman, San Antonio gun dealer, shipped five machine guns last October.

Gus T. Jones, agent in charge of the United States bureau of investigation here, announced today that Lehman has positively identified a photograph of Nelson as the man known here as "Jimmie Williams" to whom the guns were shipped from San Antonio.

The identification was another link in the chain of evidence which indicates, officers said, that Dillinger gangsters sojourned at frequent intervals in San Antonio in the latter part of 1933.

According to written statements by Lehman, Nelson, alias Williams, was in San Antonio in the summer and fall of last year, ordering high powered pistols and machine guns.

With "Williams" on some of his visits were a man who called himself Wayne Huttner, now positively identified as Homer Van Meter, another Dillinger gangster; Tommie Carroll, charged here as James McClarkin with the murder of City Detective H. C. Perrow, and the wounding of Detective Alfred Hartman; H. L. Keith, arrested here following Perrow's death, and later returned to Wisconsin, where he was sentenced for post-office robbery; a man named Tom McGannon, who has not yet been identified, and a man named Nelson, also arrested after Perrow's death but later released.

According to Lehman's statement, the machine guns which he shipped to Nelson were obtained from an insurance man named John Stockmeyer in El Paso. The guns were shipped, it was stated, in October, 1933, to "Jimmie Williams" in Minneapolis.

Jones declared that it was late in October that the Lima, Ohio, jail delivery was carried out and a Lima officer was killed.

The government agent advanced a theory that some of the machine guns shipped from here were used in that killing.

Lehman is under $2,000 bond on his own recognizance.

AUSTIN, May 3. (P)—Lloyd R. Wheelock of Corsicana, president of the Texas Petroleum council, has called a meeting of the advisory and executive committees of the council for next Tuesday at Tyler.

HAMMOND REGAINS COMMAND MADISON SQUARE COMPANY

FORMER RICKARD ASSOCIATE BUYS INTERESTS OF BANKERS

NEW YORK, May 3.—(P)—The house that Tex built, Madison Square Garden, was under the guidance of the old regime again today with one of Tex Rickard's former associates controlling the policies of the big sports arena on Eighth avenue.

Col. John S. Hammond, one of Rickard's associates in the original venture, has purchased the interests of Richard F. Hoyt and Hayden Stone Co., the bankers who underwrote the venture nine years ago. Hammond made the formal announcement late yesterday, confirming reports that had been current for several days. A few minor legal details, he said, remained to be cared for. It is understood that Hammond purchased 78,000 shares of stock at $7 per share, slightly above the market value.

Although Hammond indicated that he will go slowly about reorganizing the garden management it was expected that the tall, white-haired west point graduate would be the guiding spirit from now on and would stage a return to the policies followed by Rickard.

Hammond, who "sold" the idea of professional hockey to Rickard and brought to the Garden the best paying sport of the past few years, will return to the presidency of the Rangers Hockey club and will become chairman of the Garden board of directors. Col. John R. Kilpatrick will retain the presidency of the corporation and no immediate changes are planned in the boxing management, now guided by Jimmy Johnston.

After a long and rather tiring tour of the ruins of St. Andrews Cathedral, during which they visited the graves of Scotland's golfing great, a couple of them discovered late yesterday that the local tournament which had deprived them of their usual two practice rounds was over, and Johnny Goodman, Lawson Little and Jack Westland seized their

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT PLANNING $2,000,000 DRIVE ON CRIME AND FUND BE USED FOR GUNS AND MEN

By RICHARD RENDELL
WASHINGTON, May 3.—(P)—The justice department outlined today a $2,000,000 thrust at crime. It will ask congress for this sum to buy more guns and pay more men.

A shortage of federal "artillery" was disclosed to have led to the arming of federal Dillinger-chasers with machine guns captured from other mobsters.

Several machine guns taken from Harvey J. Bailey, Albert Bates and George "Machine Gun" Kelly, convicted as kidnapers of Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma oil millionaire, have been removed quietly from a show case at the department in the last few days and issued to agent's assigned to the Dillinger case.

Attorney General Cummings was represented as "ready" to ask congress for sufficient funds to engage as many as 200 to 300 additional division of investigation agents and to equip them not only with guns but also fast motor cars.

The justice department's appropriation for the present fiscal year totaled $41,231,835. For the year beginning next July 1 the department has been allotted only $28,700,778. With congress speeding through a variety of federal anti-crime bills officials anticipated little trouble for the new money request.

Still another anti-crime unit—aimed at bootleggers—is being whipped into shape. Arthur J. Mellett, who described himself as a "personal dry but not a fanatic," arrived here yesterday from Kansas City to take over the treasury's alcohol tax unit of 3,600 men. Half of this force will be used by Mellett as a militant anti-bootlegger organization. The other half will supervise the legitimate trade.

Just about the time existing repeal conditions were coming in for a strong lacing in the senate—the first wet and dry talk there since prohibition days—Mellett surveyed his force and found he had a 50 per cent larger organization to throw against bootleggers than was operative before repeal.

Last December the justice department's prohibition unit numbered only 1,200 agents. The new chief has been given $7,000,000 with which to operate during the next fiscal year.

President Roosevelt has indicated the conceded large volume of illicit liquor business will be assailed more directly than any immediate lowering taxes or tariffs.

—and here's what's doing it . . .

 It was a great record of leadership that Chevrolet made in 1933! It's an even greater, more impressive record that Chevrolet is making for 1934! Already, sales are tens of thousands of cars ahead of last year. Production is running higher than that of any other automobile company in the world. And every day, from state after state, comes the same report on registrations: Chevrolet is leading all other cars!

The big reason for such preference is plainly shown at the right. Chevrolet has so many vital features that others in the low-price field have left out: Knee-Action wheels that are fully enclosed for complete safety and absolute dependability. A six-cylinder valve-in-head engine with an exclusive "Blue-Flame" head. Big, "cable-controlled" brakes, the best in the low-price field. Large, spacious bodies by Fisher, with Fisher No Draft Ventilation. And real "shock-proof" steering that brings new ease and comfort to driving. No other low-priced automobile has a single one of these five leading 1934 features. That's why no other can be backed by such a confident statement as this:

Drive it only 5 miles
and you'll never be satisfied with any

BEAUTY CHATS

Ballet Practice for Beauty

Be a Ballet Dancer.
Ballet dancers are not always beautiful, but they are graceful. Miss Forbes gives their exercises from time to time for her readers to practice.

If you want the supple, slender, eternally young figure of the ballet dancer, the grace and poise that come from their strength, you can have it, to a large extent at least, by practicing ballet exercises. Get a good teacher to give them to you and you will know how to do them. Also to hold onto. And your first exercise is to stand sideways to the bar, holding it with one hand—left side, left hand, we'll say, and left foot turned so that the toe points toward the bar and the heel away from it. This twisting of the feet which you notice in all ballet dancing is wonderful for developing the leg muscles. Now with the right foot kick out forward, twisting the leg so the right heel points toward the bar and the toes away from it. Swing from your hips, always. Bring the foot over to the foot, then kick sideways, out from the hips, and then kick backwards.

You repeat these kicks a number of times and then you turn and do them with the other leg. Then, standing as before, with the toe pointing out, you point your toe out to the side and in again, very fast, always keeping the toe pointed. This stretches the calf muscles and the inside of the leg. Repeat this with the other side of the leg.

Resting a foot on the bar, you slide that foot away from you, and as you do so you extend your arms to the foot and you bend your body over to the foot. Now this is a good stretching exercise, and stretching the muscles is just what you need. No rheumatism for you, no ugly poses, no useless flesh. If you can become proficient in this, this is the beginning of the ballet work. Work hard at it each day and you'll have the firm muscles and long, straight back of the dancer.

STOCK MARKET IS SHOWING SIGNS OF SOME REJUVENATION

TRADERS STILL CAUTIOUS AND ACTIVITY WAS RESTRICTED, HOWEVER

NEW YORK, May 3.—(AP)—Scattered rallying tendencies appeared in today's stock market. There was no buying rush, however, and most of the moderate recoveries were accredited to technical factors. Dullness was the rule throughout the session, only a few issues developing fair activity. The close was slightly irregular. Transfers approximated 1,000,000 shares.

NEW YORK, May 3.—(AP)—The stock market showed signs of rejuvenation today although the traders were still cautious and the activity restricted.

Commentators spoke of at least a technical rally of moderate proportions and buying in some of the groups was attributed partly to the hope that the short interest, however small, would be relatively small and stimulation for recovery was being awaited from other sources.

KATHARINE HEPBURN BACK FROM YUCATAN WITH HER DIVORCE

TROUBLE MOVIE ACTORS AND ACTRESSES SEEM ON INCREASE

MIAMI, Fla., May 3.—(AP)—Traveling under the name of Mrs. E. Smith, Katharine Hepburn, the red-haired movie actress, left here today for Mexico City, where she is expected to appear in a new play. She arrived yesterday from Merida Yucatan, where she instituted divorce proceedings against her husband, Ludlow Ogden Smith.

The actress declined to make any comment on the divorce action or her plans for the immediate future.

Incompatibility Grounds.
MERIDA, Yucatan, May 3.—(AP)—The record in the case of "Smith vs. Smith" was disclosed today, and showed that Mrs. Smith (Katharine Hepburn of the stage and screen) based her action for divorce on Ludlow Ogden Smith.

It was indicated a decree would be granted before nightfall.

The actress' petition set forth that she and Smith, who is an insurance broker, have been separated for more than 300 days.

They were married in West Hartford, Conn., in 1928, before Miss Hepburn became well known through her performance on the stage in "The Warrior's Husband" and in the screen plays "Morning Glory" and "Little Women."

Corinne Griffith Divorced.
HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 3.—(AP)—The divorce of Corinne Griffith and Walter Mitchell Moscoso today, but the brunette screen actress said all was not over between them.

A few days after the decree was obtained in Juarez, Mex., yesterday the actress said the action represented the only immediate solution of their problems, but there is a very good chance for a reconciliation.

No grounds were cited in the divorce, the laws of Chihuahua, Mexican state in which Juarez is located, permitting divorce by mutual consent.

Production of the stage produced Oliver Moscoso, filed the action several hours after he arrived in Juarez by airplane, Miss Griffith, who remained here, said he would return to Hollywood today.

"We shall be very good friends," she said.

The couple was married nearly 10 years ago.

The 34-year-old actress was educated in New Orleans and came to Hollywood from the city of New Orleans.

She was divorced from her first husband, William Campbell, film director, in 1923.

Gilbert's Fourth Through.
HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 3.—(AP)—John Gilbert's fourth marriage found its way into the divorce courts where the other three marriages of the one-time great lover of the screen.

In filing a divorce action yesterday, Miss Virginia Bruce described the actor as "arrogant, violent and abusive." The actress said he was cynical of her intelligence, refused to work and was extravagant.

Miss Bruce asked $150 a month for the support of their infant daughter, and $23.1 a week for herself for three years.

The couple separated several months ago at which time Miss Bruce said divorce appeared to be the only solution of their difficulties.

Like Miss Bruce, Gilbert's three divorced wives were actresses—Ina Claire, Leatrice Joy and Olivia Burwell.

Reports also came that the Imam Yahya of Yemen would attempt to rally his forces by calling upon all Moslems to join him in a "Jihad" (Holy war) against Ibn Saud.

Most Arabians appeared, however, to regard the fight between the tribal monarch and a private dispute, and there appeared no chance that much outside support would be given to either.

PORT SAID, Egypt, May 3.—(AP)—Hodada, the advancing forces of Ibn Saud, ruler of Saudi Arabia, was reported here today, and observers regarded the report as threatening the cause of Yemen in the tribal war.

CORSICANA COTTON MILLS LOSE EXCESS TAX PAYMENT SUIT

AUSTIN, May 2.—(AP)—The Texas supreme court today invoked the Simpson law to uphold a claim against the state arising from involuntary overpayment of franchise taxes.

The suit was brought to force payment of a warrant issued by the comptroller in favor of a foreign asphalt company after its claim for refund had been approved by the legislature. Payment was refused by the state treasurer on advice of the attorney general that the claim was not authorized by "pre-existing" law as defined in the constitution. The common law is the law of decision where it is not inconsistent with the constitution and law, the supreme court ruled.

A mandamus was refused the Corsicana Cotton Mills, Inc., which sought a refund on excess franchise taxes that had been paid voluntarily.

The supreme court held that voluntary overpayments could not be refunded, stating "a moral obligation against the state is not always a legal obligation."

principles embodied in the recovery act were to be permanent, he replied:

"If there has been any good demonstrated by the recovery act, it will live and it ought to live, if there has been any bad it will die and it ought to die." While not so outspoken, speakers who followed Strawn also found room for criticism, mostly centering around the securities act.

Malcolm Muir, former NRA official and president of the McCraw-Hill publishing company, praised the President, but hit the securities act, and urged that prospective reform measures have no part in a recovery program.

Strawn said he had been unable to "get in step" with the present procession.

He said he preferred older ways than "adopting a daily portfolio of discordant experiments which seem impossible of being assembled into a new governmental machine."

"I trust," he said, "I shall not be regarded as unpatriotic when I express the opinion that confidence will not be restored until there is a cessation of experimental legislation. x x x

Assuming that this legislation was conceived with the best of motives, there is no convincing evidence it is a part of general, well-thought out and complete program.

Other words, economically and financially we seem to be drifting about on an uncharted sea, hoping that some unfavorable wind may spring up to carry us safely to port."

Finch Club Women Met Friday at Home Mrs. Musa Tarrer

Mrs. Musa Tarrer entertained at her home April 29, the Finch Home Demonstration club ladies. Our president opened the meeting and started our regular session, but before we had proceeded for our country demonstration agent, Miss Ruth McNabb, and Miss Ona Jacks, a yard demonstrator from A. and M. College, came, which was a pleasant surprise, as Miss McNabb had sent word that she could not possibly be with us.

Mrs. Tarrer, our president, and Miss McNabb, also Miss Jacks, inspected the yard and improvements that had been made within the last year.

Our vice president resumed the meeting, and as we have $11.90 in the treasury, we have decided to buy another canner, provided we can raise the necessary funds for we really need two canners, as our club is growing so and we wish to help those who are not members.

After the meeting, a little school boy mixed the drinks and three new members served refreshments to 16 members and also to Miss McNabb and Miss Jacks.

A violin solo was given by Mrs. Tarrer and a song by Miss Maybelle Culpepper.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Cora Patterson, May 11.

Burglar Steals Kiss But Leaves Diamond Circlet

FORT WORTH, May 3.—(AP)—A romantic burglar who broke into a rooming house here early today valued a kiss more highly than a $75 diamond ring.

Mrs. Maude Flournoy, 27, roomer, was awakened by a hand on her forehead. She opened her eyes to look into the glare of a flashlight.

A man whispered: "Be quiet and don't holler. I just want a kiss."

Mrs. Flournoy asked the burglar to turn on the lights.

"It may be crazy," he replied. "But I'm not that crazy. I do not want you to identify me. I've been in the penitentiary for 20 years and I'm not going back."

With that the burglar leaned over and kissed her on the lips. The young woman was not frightened until after he had gone, she said. Then she missed a diamond ring from her finger. Later she found it under the bed.

A running gun fight between Hastings and St. Paul Park ensued, but the trio escaped, abandoning the coupe near Intergrate, Minn., where they held up Francis, his wife and baby, taking his sedan.

The coupe was found later, abandoned and blood-stained, the trio continuing their wild flight, which apparently took them to Chicago, in Francis' car, presumably by way of Freeport, Ill., where it was equipped with stolen Illinois license plates and a doctor's insignia.

Rear Window Gone

The rear window of Francis' machine had been knocked out, to give the gunmen free range in any machine gun battles they might have with the police—a common practice, the authorities said, of gangsters expecting trouble. In the machine were a pile of bandages, several boxes of paper matches from the Little Bohemia resort, and a copy of a Dubuque, Iowa, newspaper, with a headline:

"Dillinger on Rampage."

Other indications that Dillinger is hiding out somewhere in the Chicago area came Monday morning when one of four gunmen who disarmed a squad of Bellwood police, was identified as Dillinger.

Apparently the car's presence showed that it was the second time that Dillinger had selected Chicago as his hideout after a major escape. The other came a few days after the desperado escaped from the Crown Point Ind., jail with the use of a wooden gun, and Sheriff Lillian Holley's automobile.

Her car, like Francis' was found abandoned in a Chicago street.

SOLUTION OF FARM PROBLEM IS KEY TO ECONOMIC RECOVERY

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—Bernard M. Baruch, financier and advisor to presidents, said today in one of his rare interviews that solution of the farm problem is the key to economic recovery.

Recently as a guest at the white house, the New Yorker indicated his belief that the farm problem will not be solved by cutting down production but by increasing consumption at home and abroad.

"The most important problem before the country, Baruch said, is a just solution of the agricultural problem, as it has been for 20 years.

"The first thing is to establish the buying power of the farmer and the ownership of his farm. As soon as that is established many other problems will be solved. Without that nothing will be solved."

The administration recently has shown a disposition to attack the farm problem through export aids and tariff agreements.

OIL STRIKE

Fourteen pools in the area are affected. The strike entailed cessation of all Sinclair operations in the district, including drilling, pumping, gasoline plant operations, an pipeline and other transportation of oil and oil products.

In view of the fact that during the strike offset wells adjoining Sinclair leases will be draining the company's properties, a report was heard that interested royalty owners planned to register complaints.

As the men walked out there was no confusion. The strikers aided in preparations for the shutdown, laughed or chatted casually as they washed their hands and faces and threw aside their working clothes.

CLOSED BANK

Pecora, counsel, held that the bank was "hopelessly insolvent" in February, 1932, one year before it was closed.

Seymour reported the trust company "has never issued a statement of condition which has shown the true facts. He claimed its 25 subsidiary corporations were 'used to cover up those activities of the trust company other than of the banking business.'"

He directed particular criticism at what he called the company's device of "window dressing," he said, "was through the medium of repurchase agreements, kiting of checks and large temporary deposits from friendly depositors."

Affairs of the trust company, Seymour reported, were "dictated and managed almost wholly by Mr. J. Arthur House, president."

Chrysler Corp. Declares Extra Dividend Today

NEW YORK, May 3.—(AP)—Directors of the Chrysler Corp. today declared an extra dividend of 25 cents on the capital stock. A regular quarterly disbursement of 25 cents was also ordered.

and Mr. H. C. Robinson, executive vice president.

House and Robinson, who are under indictment for their management of the Employees' Retirement fund, he said, "saw the possibility of diverting funds from the retirement fund for their own use."

Reporting that the directors voted a lump sum at the end of each year as a bonus to the officers, Seymour said House took "the lion's share for himself," and allowed Robinson "a large portion of the remainder."

BLACK-DRAUGHT

"Such a Good Laxative," Says Nurse

Writing from her home in Pottsville, Mo., Mrs. Anna LaPlante says: "I am a practical nurse and I recommend to some of my patients that they take Black-Draught, for it is such a good laxative. I took it for constipation, headache and a dull feeling that I had so much. A few doses of Black-Draught—and I felt just fine."

Because so many people know from having used it that Black-Draught is a good, purely vegetable laxative, millions of packages of it are sold every year.
